The daughter of the village veterinarian is determined to find homes for a litter of kittens born to the school cat. An especially sensitive and compassionate girl, she cannot tolerate the thought of the kittens being put to death by the school caretaker. Katinka Wolf reads the script in a British accent, doing well with the country accent. She strains a little too much to make her voice low for the male voices but does better with the females. This is a sweet tale with a happy ending. A.G.H. © AudioFile 2001, Portland, Maine-- Copyright © AudioFile, Portland, Maine

Very sweet

By Pete Cats

Great book for kids who love animals. My daughters (ten) loves this series. It is written well, easy to read for her.

My son liked this book

By BRamm

My son loves animal stories. When I ordered it, I didn't know the level it was. He takes AR Tests at school and has to be within a range for his level. This book is a 4th Grade level book.

Very damaged book

By C. Bates

I realize that I ordered a used book, but this should not have been classified and "used acceptable" because the book looked like it had been run over by a truck. The pages were folded over, the spine completely falling apart, and I had to tape the spine and front and back covers on because they were hanging on by a thread. I have ordered many used books and they've always been in satisfactory condition. This one was really really used. For the price it's not that big a deal but there should maybe be more categories for used books.
